It has again been a busy year with various reunions...the latest were the Class of 1973, 40 year reunion and the Class of 1963, 50 year reunion. Wonderful afternoons catching up with old friends, swapping stories and for many it was the first time to come back to Windsor in a long time.

CLASS OF 1963

The Annual Reunion, for all past pupils, is coming up on Sunday 24 November. This year is the 140th anniversary of education at PCW and we have a commemorative Mosaic Mural - which we will be unveiling on this afternoon. I’ve seen it in production and it is looking fabulous. To give you an idea, the size of this mosaic mural is nearly 1.5m high by 7.5m wide. A very spectacular piece!

In the mid year edition of Windsor News, we included a form for scholarship donations. I would like to say a special thank you to all those you have been able to help by making donations. All donations, big and small, make a difference to a child who otherwise may not be able to receive an education at PCW - I am sure you would all agree that a PCW education is special!

Please keep sending me your news and updates.
I hope to see many of you at the reunion in November.

Lynaire Falkenstein

Melissa Tout
Class of 2003

Recently Melissa came back to PCW and donated her Saxophone and Flute to the Music Department. She no longer used them and the school was very happy to accept them, enabling students who could otherwise not get involved in music an opportunity to learn an instrument. After leaving PCW in 2003, Melissa went onto to study Arts and subsequently has ended up working in the Finance Industry for GIO. She remembers Sr Nola...and her always meeting the girls at the front gate to ensure their socks were pulled up! Under Mr Paul McCarthy (Head of Music at the time), Melissa was involved in the Instrumental and Jazz bands along with the choir.

Thanks for the donation Melissa...much appreciated!

Past Pupils Committee

The Past Pupils Committee meets regularly and works behind the scenes to support the work of the new PCW Alumnae Office. As a voluntary group they look to:

- Maintain Connections—with Alumnae and the College.
- Support mentoring at PCW
- Develop the Archives
- Support Reunions & Events.
- Support Social Justice at PCW

All alumnae are welcome to join the committee. They meet every second month. Please contact Maureen Pontin, President, for details. E: allmaur12@gmail.com

Working at the Opportunity Shop

The committee of the Past Pupils and some extra helpers donate their time to work at the opportunity shop one week of the year. As a result of that week’s work we receive a percentage of the profits. The Past Pupils committee work throughout the year collecting goods and plants to be sold as part of this week. A member of our committee helps by storing our collected goods and a week before sale we collect and deliver our collection to the opportunity shop.

Our week at the Mount Waverly Lions club opportunity shop helps the committee to raise funds for the Social Justice Award presented at the Year 12 graduation evening and the annual reunion. The Windsor archives also receive funds that have allowed it to buy our display models and other necessities for the ongoing work being done with the school archives.

The committee enjoys this opportunity to work together towards our common goal, the continued strengthening of our association.

Do you know a past pupil who would like to receive Entre Nous?

Please send me their contact details (including their email and leaving class details if you know them) and I will add them to the distribution list. Lynaire Falkenstein. PCW Alumnae Office. Ph 03 8517 2734 alumnae@pcw.vic.edu.au

Annual Reunion

Sunday 24 November. Mass at 2pm followed by Afternoon Tea at 3pm. Celebrating 140 years of education at PCW (1873-2013). We will be unveiling our 140th commemorative mural during the reunion. Enquiries to Past Pupils Committee. Email: allmaur12@gmail.com

Do you like writing?

We were fascinated to discover that ‘gentleman’ and ‘squatter’ were listed as occupations of some fathers of Windsor students in the 1880s and 90s. If there was no father, the mother was simply described as ‘lady’. Times have changed!

Many stories are sitting on the shelves in our archives just waiting to be told. Do you enjoy research and writing and have a special interest in our school?

If so, we would love to hear from you.
2013 Alumnae Annual Reunion

Sunday 24 November

All past pupils are invited to join us at the annual reunion and celebrate the 140th anniversary of Presentation College Windsor 1873-2013

We will be unveiling our Mosaic Mural

It is a garden brimming with life, growth and diversity incorporating various flowers and plants to represent the PCW community over the last 140 years.

Mass 2pm
Afternoon Tea 3pm

Everyone Welcome
Please come and bring your friends!

Aquinas Library Update

Many Alumnae will remember the rooms on the first floor of the 1901 Kavanagh building. For some, you will have had many lessons in one of the computer labs or in the tutorial rooms. For others, you may go back to the original purpose of the rooms - boarders’ dormitories. You will pleased to know then that another life awaits these large and airy spaces and they are to be the new home of the Aquinas Library. Plans to relocate the library to a more central position on the campus have been developed for some time and I am very pleased to inform you that work will commence at the end of this year. Walls will be removed to open up the space and areas for reading, research, teaching and quiet study will be created. So these lovely rooms which were home to so many girls over nearly eighty years and which then provided for the technology innovations of the 80s and 90s will now be the place for our 21st century library. The work of a Library has, of course, changed dramatically in recent year as a result of touch-screen, mobile technologies and there are those who would argue that we, in fact, don't need libraries any more. I disagree strongly with this view and continue to see the role of the library in a school as the repository of information, conduit for students and staff for resources and centre of learning and teaching. Technology has expanded and transformed the way a library works and the newly located Aquinas Library will be an excellent example of these changes and, located in the centre of the campus, will be a lively junction of learning and teaching, engagement and social interaction for the entire school community.

It is graduation week next week and the Year 12s are expressing the usual mix of excitement and nervousness. The rituals which go with graduation now are joyful occasions which we hope will stay with the students as they move into adulthood. We celebrate with the girls for the whole day on October 23 - breakfast, lunch and dinner! We begin with breakfast on the front lawn. This is followed a year level assembly and then whole school assembly where the student body thanks and farewells the graduating class. Lunch is put on by the Year 11s and then, following practices for Mass and the graduation ceremony, the students go home to change before Mass at 6.00pm followed by drinks and finger food and then the graduation ceremony itself. A highlight of the ceremony is always the presentation by two Alumnae of the Community Service Award.

Good wishes to all past students of our school.
I hope to see many of you at the Mass and Reunion on Sunday November 24.

This beautiful video was produced and gifted to the school by past student Abi Richardson, Class of 1987.

Abi now owns production company ARC Films and works across all platforms of film and media. She has a strong love of the principles and values instilled in her from her days at PCW and the tradition continues with her daughter, Molly, now in year 7. You can contact Abi at abi@arcfilms.com.au or on 0439 319 364.
Winds at Windsor

The recent Melbourne winds have brought down several trees at PCW!

Windsor Blessing

At this significant historical moment in the life of Presentation here at Windsor, the College Mission team has been working on the notion of Windsor blessing. In addition with working with students and staff on the history and purpose of blessing, the mission has produced the below blessing, using the work of John O’Donohue. As members of this Presentation Family, we share this blessing with you, we pray this blessing for you, and invite you to use it.

A Windsor blessing

May the light of Nano bless you
May the light of your soul guide you,
May the Angel of awakening stir your heart for what is right and just
May you see in what you do the beauty of your soul
May you feel that love, we call God, within you.
Boarding in the 60’s...a personal reflection.

‘The devil finds work for idle hands to do’. My Grandmother said it, quoting someone else I’m sure, and the Sisters at PCW in the 60’s certainly shaped the lives of the Boarders as if they believed it! The PCW Boarders of the 60’s were never idle!

Our days and nights were structured, disciplined and ordered. That at least some of us managed to be none of those things is, on reflection, a triumph of the human spirit over its environment.

Thinking back to my Windsor years, as writing this article has caused me to do, school seems only to have served as a backdrop to my life as a boarder. The things that stayed in my mind about my six years as a Windsor boarder are about boarding rather than school. Clearly our education was broader than the classroom.

The routine of our lives comes back to me easily. It revolved around places: the chapel, the dining room, the dormitory, the study and the playground. It assumed adherence to a set of very clearly defined rules (most of which seemed to us to be nonsense!) and to the world of silence until permission was given to speak. You can imagine the challenge of circumventing the silence code. We could do it in a hundred different ways.

On reflection, how else could they contain and control ninety plus boarders aged from 4-18, with very limited management resources. And what a challenge for the Sisters whose care we were in, to manage us.

Our care fell to only a few Sisters - Sr Rosalie, Sr Rosaria (Mary Kavanagh), Sr Brigid - are those that come to mind, as well as the clutch of young nuns who worked in the local primary schools and provided support to the main team. And closely supervise us they did. They woke us in the morning, supervised us on ‘the line’ to mass, benediction and the rosary, for all our meals, in the study, in the playground, the dorm, the boot-room and for evening recreation.

Amazingly, their time with us was only a small part of what they had to do on any given day. All were teachers and most were also studying themselves at university level. They also ran the school, financed and built new buildings, developed the strategic direction for the school and in between nurtured their vocations. It makes me exhausted to think about it now. Not so then, however! Some of us spent our time devising ways to buck the system which, of course, made their days more difficult. It is a wonder they didn’t wring our necks.

Prior to Boarders’ weekends or holidays, I think they almost did, as we became over-excited, ratty and almost out of control. We boarders got to go home only once during each term and the excitement for the two weeks prior to the big event, and term holidays was palpable. Whispering and giggling in the dorm, talking on the line, in the boot room and under the desks during study time - all things designed to send the Sisters spare.

The boarding school facilities were basic large dormitories, cold running water only to our basins, limited heating and little privacy. However for a country kid, Windsor offered much. Not that I saw it at the time, especially in my early years as a boarder. Desperately home sick, I cried most of the first year. It is a tribute to the tenacity of my mother (who refused to let me go to the local high school) and to the Sisters who put up with me, that I actually matriculated.

Windsor provided the opportunity for education at a time when country girls from Katamatite didn’t finish secondary school, let alone have the opportunity of a university education. Windsor introduced me to theatre and music, to Miss McAlpine and Mrs Tozer and to Shakespeare, George Bernard Shaw and Jane Austin. I clearly remember my first symphony concert at the Palais - The carnival of the Animals, and the lines of the Chocolate Cream Soldier (my first and only leading role) in the Shaw play “Arms and the Man”.

Some life long friends go back to my Windsor days. I am part of the Windsor fraternity for life and, amazingly, in the words of our old school song which still come easily to mind - a tribute in many ways to the composer and our music teacher, Sr Concepta.

In retrospect I was lucky to have the Windsor experience. Introduced to the world outside my country hometown. I developed a love of music and learning. I saw the evidence that women can do anything and I’ve never been home sick since!

A News Snippet from Ireland.....

We delivered the book to the Sisters....We are at present in Galway, but took the bus to Limerick yesterday to visit the lovely sisters at their retirement convent in what we think was called Loxsbrough Road, maybe you have the correct address and we shall write to them to thank them for their hospitality when we return. There were 13 retired teaching nuns living together in this particular house, and several others in single accommodation in other parts of Limerick.

Sister Josephine Cagney, a cousin of both Mother Ita Cagney and Daniel Mannix, who had taught for many years in Mississippi and who was much travelled. She drove us all around Limerick, showing us the original convent buildings, and the schools and residences of present sisters. She even took us to the cemetery to visit their impressive grave!

They were thrilled to have the book of the history of Presentation College, Windsor, and most knew the whole story of the journey of the original sisters and the founding of PCW in 1873. They had the book, "Adventure in Faith" in their library and many others to do with the history of the order.

Please give my love to Mary Kavanagh, and tell her I shall come to visit her upon my return.

With very best wishes,
Caroline Armitage

News about the passing of one of our Alumnae....

Hi Lynaire,
I thought I’d just drop you a line to notify you of the death of a past student - Patricia Ryan (nee O’Brien) on 14/07/2013.

Trish was my second cousin and she boarded at Windsor and was a Prefect in 1939. She came from Swifts Creek.
Trish worked on the family farm after she left Windsor and then became a nurse at St Vincent’s hospital. She was awarded a medal of distinction but I cannot remember what it was called.

The O’Briens and Ruths are closely related as my grandmother was an O’Brien and my aunt, Margaret Ruth, was a Presentation Sister.
I boarded 1971 - 1973 and was the last in line of boarders/day students in the family over the years.

Trish had a great farewell at St Mary’s Basillica, Geelong - with over 500 in attendance.
She was an amazing lady who will be greatly missed.

Kind regards
Fiona Ruth
Vale Patrice Maude Fogarty

23.10.1958 – 7.7.2013

Patrice was their first child and then Jenny and Phillip arrived. Life was always a challenge for Patrice - she was born with three holes in her heart. So right from babyhood she battled heart and a range of other medical problems and over the years, she had many procedures and operations and was in and out of hospital many, many times. Amazingly, Patrice always remained a very bright, cheerful person with a wicked sense of humour who was strong and positive about everything. She studied, worked, volunteered, socialised with family and friends and impressed everyone she came into contact with. Patrice certainly did her very best to live life to the full.

Her formative school years were spent at PCW and she enjoyed her time at Windsor very much. She was a keen student who had a thirst for knowledge and she showed an interest in Accountancy and Law. During her years at Windsor she made a number of very special, lifelong friends. After leaving school in 1976 she qualified as an accountant and worked in this field for a number of years.

In November 1980 she met David Maude and they married in 1981. He was her soul mate for life and they shared a very strong bond. David provided Patrice with an incredible amount of love and he assisted her in every way he could. During 1980s and early 90s when Patrice’s health deteriorated and her life became very difficult he encouraged her to consider a heart and lung transplant. On the 7th January 1995 at approximately 2.30am Patrice was informed that there were organs waiting for her. She wondered if she was doing the right thing in agreeing to undertake this risky surgery but David remained strong and positive and supported Patrice wholeheartedly. Patrice lived for another eighteen years with an amazing new heart and set of lungs and there was no stopping her.

She represented Australia in the 1997 World Transplant Games in Sydney and was selected for the 1999 Games as well. In 2000 she was a torchbearer at Traralgon in country Victoria during the Olympic Torch journey. Patrice received the Flinders Community Service Award in 2003 for her work within the Cranbourne community. Later that year, Patrice was named in the Queen’s Birthday Honours List and was presented with an Order of Australia Medal (OAM). Patrice received this award because of her outstanding service to the community particularly with Transplant Australia. After her heart-lung transplant, Patrice believed she had been given a second chance and wished to help others. She assisted in increasing the organ donation rate, often speaking at meetings and encouraging others to consider organ donation. She was also a Justice of the Peace and a Bail Justice and she volunteered at the Dandenong Police Station. She worked at the Cranbourne Information and Support Service, she was Secretary of the Country Fire Authority in Tooradin for six years and she also gave time to a number of drug rehabilitation programs. She assisted disadvantaged youth with driving instruction in the City of Casey and she even managed to find the time to serve on the PCW Past Pupils’ Association committee.

Patrice deserves our congratulations. She inspired everyone she came into contact with. She had many health problems and severe pain to cope with but she never lost her overwhelming desire to help others in our community.

Written by Pauline Wilson with notes supplied by Julie Rochford
Mary was born on the east day of St Therese - 3rd October 1937, being the second of five children to Bill & Kathleen Clements.

During her primary school education at St Aloysius Caulfield, her parents ensured all the children learnt the basics of piano via Connie Peters (A piano teacher who lived in the street). Mary took this in her stride to ultimately improve her understanding of this beautiful instrument to the extent of gaining her Associate Diploma and graduating with a Bachelor of Music from the Conservatorium.

These were the days before TV and the family recall sing-a-longs around the Ronisch piano with Mary in full flight on the arpeggios. With the constant practice Mary put in on playing the classics…they were certainly up their with the best!

Mary attended Presentation Convent Windsor for her secondary education and excelled in English, French and musical theory subjects.

Her first employment was in the legal department of the State Savings back, where she graduated to secretary to the legal head...her typing and shorthand were so accurate!

At this time she also commenced playing the beautiful organ at St Aloysius for church services and weddings - a fore-runner to her contribution to the accompaniment in this church over the years by organising the playing and singing for celebrations such as Christmas and Easter.

Mary ventured overseas with her two sisters Margaret and Kathleen in the mid 60's to England, Ireland and the Continent, on a working holiday, then joined a French company an her return.

All this time the thought of a profession in the teaching of music took hold to the extent she studied for the Diploma of Education after completion of an Arts degree at Monash University. Mary taught at many schools including St Albans Secondary, Foster High School, Kildara Convent and De La Salle College. Here student will never forget her enthusiasm with school productions such as Grease and Gilbert and Sullivan.

Mary also worked at the Melba Conservatorium at this time and lectured in Music Styles and Theory to budding Opera Singers.

Music was always a balance for Mary and this steered her into her involvement in many musical groups such as the Samaritan Light Opera Company, St Francis Choir, the Melbourne Chorale and the Stonnington Symphony. In her later years she remained an active member of Allianze Francaise, U3A and her local book and Church groups. In her lifetime she endeared herself as a loving aunt to thirteen offspring in our family tree as only Mary could in her own special way.

I remain so proud of my sister who certainly lit up a room with her presence and we celebrate having contact with a true icon of the music world.

PRESENTATION COLLEGE WINDSOR
1873-2013

Our Archive photo book will enthral you with wonderful memories of Presentation College Windsor. This 100 page, hard cover, beautiful coffee table book is a real treasure and is sure to become a family heirloom.

From the bold letter by Father Corbett, to the courageous response from the Sisters in Limerick, to the first students, the first school house, the convent, more new buildings, more students, change, good times, difficult times, more change, new subjects and programs ... all the way to the 21st century and the community of PCW in 2012. This wonderful book, whilst not a complete history but a beautiful pictorial collection, tells the great story of your school, our school.
